Delta Vacations Route Map now available for travel agents

New interactive resource updated weekly

MINNEAPOLIS, MN (September 30, 2013) – An interactive Delta Vacations Route Map is now available to travel agents, according to MLT Vacations, a leading provider of vacation packages in the U.S.

Using Delta Air Lines' Route Map as a template, the new web-based reference tool provides travel agents with easy access to detailed route and schedule information for all Delta Vacations origins and destinations across the globe.

MLT Vacations President John Caldwell made the announcement during an address to top travel agent partners during the company's annual travel agent educational program, MLT University.

"The Delta Vacations Route Map simplifies the process of finding clients the best flight options that match their needs," said Caldwell. "We believe this is an industry first and another great example of the value travel agents and their clients enjoy when they choose Delta and Delta Vacations."

Updated every Monday, the Delta Vacations Route Map shows flight schedules 331 days in advance, and allows users to select nonstop, single connections and double connection flights, which are color-coded and easily accessible via a drop down calendar.

With the tool, travel agents can find all possible connections between Delta Vacations origins and destinations and sort the results to fit their clients' schedules.

The Delta Vacations Route Map tool is an improvement over the monthly quick reference guides, which were provided to travel agents as PDF files, and is available to travel agents now through the Reference Files tab on WorldAgent Direct, the booking engine for MLT Vacations.
